STEEL INDUSTRY SCENARIO

The Indian Steel Industry, after passing through a phase of economic slowdown in 2009 has shown a steady growth in 2010. The consumption of steel in the country has shown an increase of around 10.3 per cent during April 2010 to January 2011 as compared to the same period of previous year, indicating strengthening of demand. During the last few years, the demand growth has been more than supply growth. The lag in supply growth was mainly due to delays in statutory clearances, land acquisition issues, lack of new raw material linkages, etc. However the Indian economy is facing the risk of very high inflationary conditions leading the Government to tighten monetary policies which may in turn affect growth significantly. The high raw material cost coupled with increasing operational cost has put pressure on operating margins of the Steel Companies in the later half and trend is expected to continue during the current year as well.

The company during the period has completed modernization and modification of its steel plant at Wardha and installed some new equipment/s, modified existing equipments and up-graded other auxiliary facilities to increase the existing capacity of the plant. The company has now started receiving regular Hot Metal supplies and accordingly has changed its charge mix by replacing scrap by Hot Metal thereby reducing the production time and saving a considerable amount on power consumed. The company has made necessary changes in its plant to synchronise with production cycle of Hot metal. The above changes alongwith removal of certain bottlenecks has now increased its production capacity to 1 million tonnes of HR per annum. This will help to improve the viability of its operations in the long run.

Debt Restructuring

The Company has completed restructuring of debt with majority of its lenders. Restructuring proposals of debts with some Financial Institutions and Banks are under various stages of discussion. In spite of Company facing a very difficult situation, the Company has paid off ₹ 57.76 crores during the period towards past Debt liabilities in accordance with the restructuring terms.

The Company during the year has supplied critical items to G.R.S.E., DPRO and other equipments for many clients. The division has completed its project of supply and commissioning of Marine Loading Arms to Essar Construction Ltd.. ### MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The core business of the Company is manufacturing and marketing Iron and Steel products and manufacturing capital equipments and turnkey projects. The Management discussions and analysis is given hereunder:-

- a) Industry structure and development : India's domestic steel demand remained robust with apparent demand last year, led by good demand for autos and engineering services. The Indian Steel Industry is expected to do well on the back of increase in demand and capacity addition by domestic steel companies. The engineering industry in India manufactures a wide range of products, with heavy engineering goods accounting for bulk of the production. The development of Engineering Industry depends upon the development of core sectors and the infrastructure sector. The Engineering Industry demands high level of investment.
- b) Opportunities and threats: The Indian steel industry has a very good growth potential, with future demand boosting India's per capita consumption of steel to higher levels. The Indian steel markets are emerging high due to robust demand for construction and civil engineering, automotive and mechanical engineering. This growth however will be more dependent on supply-side response, innovative product offerings and substitutions, massive increase in oil prices etc.
- c) Segment-wise performance: The Company is mainly in the business of manufacturing Steel and Capital Equipments and Turnkey Projects. The Company has no activity outside India except export of steel products manufactured in India. Segment wise performance is given at Note No. 23 of Schedule P i.e. Notes on Accounts.
- d) Outlook: The outlook for the domestic steel industry looks positive.
